

INVESTMENT SALES

Aegis provides real estate investors with a range of market insights and property valuation and marketing services. Through our knowledge of real estate markets and retail trends, we help buyers and sellers identify investment opportunities and maximize property values and returns.

Our investment professionals have years of experience with hundreds of properties, including retail properties, residential buildings, office buildings and development sites. By leveraging our unprecedented network of principals, owners and brokers, we help private and institutional clients locate and acquire properties that meet their investment criteria.

Our specialists also have extensive experience helping investors market their properties and retail space for sale. We secure the highest possible sale price for clients through focused market intelligence, customized marketing campaigns and timely closings.

We also help clients with their growing 1031 Exchanges coupled with their inherent need for timely execution. Our constantly available flow of single-tenant and other income-producing properties have enabled our clients to execute their 1031 Exchanges.
